

CALL FOR PAPERS

Space and Place in European Cinema 2015 European Cinema Research Forum Annual Conference

Huston School of Film & Digital Media
National University of Ireland, Galway
7th – 8th July 2015

The 15th European Cinema Research Forum invites proposals exploring any aspect of space and place in European cinema. Contributions from the realm of practice-based research are particularly welcome.

Possible topics include, but are not limited to, the practice or representation of space and place in European cinema in relation to questions of:

- Architecture and environment
- Genders, sexualities and/or ethnicities
- National/transnational cinemas
- Film aesthetics and the production of place
- Film production/technologies and/or media policy
- Soundscapes
- Changing spaces of reception/exhibition

Proposals may be in the form of an abstract for an individual paper or a panel suggestion (3x20 minute papers).

Please send abstracts (individual paper max. 200 words; panel max. 400 words) accompanied by a short bio-bibliography (max. 150 words per presenter) to Dr Conn Holohan conn.holohan@nuigalway.ie

Abstract deadline: February 20th 2015.

Please note: selected conference proceedings will be published in a Special Issue of the peer-reviewed journal, Studies in European Cinema (Taylor and Francis).
